Комаров Василий Федорович (1838–1901) — исследователь русского церковного пения. Один из его главных трудов — «Практическая школа хорового пения» — содержит практические упражнения для совершенствования пения в хоре. Все упражнения или, как их называет В. Ф. Комаров, «уроки» расположены в форме небольших канонов, очень важной для автора. Они могут быть с удобством написаны на доске, что позволяет избежать папок с партиями, которые, порой, сбивают со счета и отвлекают внимание от дирижера, что особенно вредно на начальном этапе обучения.

Сборник адресован ученикам музыкальных школ и хоровым дирижерам, а также любительским хоровым коллективам.

Komarov Vassily Fyodorovich (1838–1901) was a researcher of Russian church singing. One of his main works, The Practical Guide to Choral Singing, contains practical exercises for training singing in the choir. All exercises or, as V. F. Komarov calls them, «lessons» are arranged in the form of small canons, which is very important for the author. They may be conveniently written on the board, which allows students to do without folders with scores, which, at times, make them get lost in rhythm and draw their attention away from the conductor, which is especially unwanted for beginners.

The collection is addressed to pupils of music schools and choral conductors, as well as amateur choral groups.
